

HAVE A WOUND?

As a specialized outpatient wound center, our team treats all wounds but specializes in those that are chronic, or difficult to heal.

Chronic wounds can have serious health consequences and adversely affect quality of life. Some require specialized dressings that are difficult to provide in a private office setting. Depending on their location and type, others may require advanced treatments, which may include debridement (removal of dead or infected tissue) or cellular, acellular or matrix-like products (CAMPs) (skin substitutes), to properly treat the wound.

Any wound that is not responding to conventional therapy would benefit from the advanced care found at a comprehensive wound center. Our provider-led wound care team utilizes a comprehensive approach to wound healing, coordinating traditional and advanced therapies that aid and accelerate the healing process.
